

Holiday Traditions

All roads lead home at Christmas is our family theme during the holidays. Or in our case, all FLIGHTS lead home at Christmas! With children on each coast, and us in Ohio, coming together for a few days of sharing, laughter and hugs, is the best gift we could give each other. During the brief time that the travelers are home, we have several family Christmas gatherings with Grandparents, Aunts and Uncles and Cousins. These gatherings have changed over the years from watching our children play with their cousins, to watching them get to know their cousins' own children!

But I have to say, my favorite Holiday tradition is Christmas morning when everyone comes to our home in their pajamas and has coffee and breakfast. Our children get to reconnect and share gifts that they have lovingly chosen for each other.

We watch the grandchildren squeal when they open a longed for gift and there is always a wrapping paper battle at the end. Similar traditions are probably in many homes during this time and equally cherished.

Whatever your traditions at the Holiday season, we hope that you are able to celebrate and be with those you love. Merry Christmas!
